"YELLOW JACK" SCARE CAUSED CANCELLATIONS FOR SIERRA

Los Angeles Press Made Much of Honolulu's Misfortune—Jimmy Ridden to the Fore Again—Persia Made Brief Stop at the Port—Mauna Loa Away from Kona and Kau Ports. Change Made In Pacific Mail Purser.

One hundred and thirty-seven first class passengers, twenty-one second class, 3,327 tons of freight and tea, sugar, not to forget the twenty-pound Thanksgiving turkeys belonging to E. Faxon Bishop, that were painted red, represent what the Oceanic liner Sierra brought in on the November trip this morning.

The passenger list is made up of a few kennelmen, a good number of tourists, two or three bridal couples, quite a sprinkling of traveling salesmen and the Hughes Comedy Company that comes well recommended to play a season at the Bijou theatre. The steamer made a very comfortable and altogether pleasant trip of it. The first day out of San Francisco was rather rough but it soon settled down to the regular weather of the Pacific, just as it is advertised.

What an adverse report on Honolulu health conditions will do towards reducing a passenger list was shown a day or two before the Sierra sailed. Several reservations were cancelled by people who planned to make the trip from Los Angeles. This cancellation was the direct result of the publication in the Los Angeles Times of the Associated Press dispatch sent from Honolulu regarding the reported case of yellow fever in the city. The dispatch said there was no danger but a special session of the Legislature was contemplated, a mass meeting of citizens had been held, forty-men of the army had volunteered as inspectors, and the medical authorities would know in a week whether the "yellow jack" would spread or not.

The dispatch was handled by the Times identically as received and handled by the Associated Press. The San Francisco papers, however, forgot to use the dispatch till three days after the dispatch arrived and so inexplicably that even some of the Honolulu people who were looking for news did not see it.

Passenger Agent Cockroft of the Oceanic line remarked as he read the Times' clipping accompanying the cancellation of reservations that he wished the Honolulu people would at least wait until conditions warranted it before they began scaring people off. The children's bun race—1st prize, girls: 1 dressed doll Miss Hollis Hughes; 2nd prize, girls: 1 dressed doll; Miss Mary Marvin; 1st prize, boys: 2 base balls, Master Ray Bat-

It is fair to say, however, that not all the prospective visitors from Los Angeles quit, and the "yellow fever news" had no dampening effect on the good nature of the passengers.

There was something doing all the time. An entertainment committee was organized with W. R. Hughes, chairman; F. Kurtzhals, secretary; Sheriff Henry, treasurer; Mrs. A. Coyne, Miss H. Wilson, Miss E. Babcock, E. Anderson, C. E. Warn, members and J. A. Magoo, master of ceremonies. Treasurer Henry accompanied by a pretty member of the Hughes Company made a tour of the ship and collected forty dollars as a starter for purchasing prizes.

The first event was the progressive whist party held in the saloon of the Sierra Wednesday evening. It was a happy and brilliant affair with fourteen tables. Refreshments were served and every detail of a pleasant social function was carried out to perfection. The prizes were won by Mr. W. H. Babcock, who remained at the head table from the start, and Miss Paul. The prizes were pretty Hawaiian souvenir pins. About six were tied for last place.

Thursday, a program of sports was carried out, occupying the forenoon and afternoon. Everyone came in to help the sport and made a mighty jolly day of it. The events and the winners were:

Thread the Needle Race—1st prize, ladies: 1 souvenir card, Miss Stella Grey; 1st prize, gentlemen: 1 souvenir card, Mr. Bert Le Blane.

RACE HORSES FOR ANTIPODES

The British freighter Kish, well known at this port, having called here some years ago with a large shipment of lumber, was sighted off Koko Head this morning displaying signals calling for her agents. The Kish was carrying a large number of valuable racehorses destined for Australia, on board were 266 head of blooded stock.

A launch put out bearing a party including a representative from T. H. Davies & Co. to board the vessel. As the little craft neared the freighter, the Kish resumed her steaming and soon outdistanced the launch, the passengers being unable to get nearer than several hundred feet of the British freighter.

The Kish is proceeding to Melbourne and it is reported that the steamer carries a big shipment of lumber.

PURSER JEROME BACK IN HARNESS AGAIN

Old-time waterfronters of Honolulu will recall Harry Jerome, the veteran purser in the Pacific Mail China, who was a regular visitor at the port some ten years ago and about this time left the service for a life ashore. Jerome has heard the call of the sea again and is reported will be found in the purser's office of the Pacific Mail Mongolia when that vessel arrives here from San Francisco on or about Monday morning. Jerome was the first purser in the Siberia and of late has been engaged in the automobile business. Purser Ludwigan who has been a familiar figure with the Mongolian has left the Pacific Mail Company.

WELL-KNOWN VISITOR CHANGES HANDS.

S. S. Ilionian will dock at Matson wharf Tuesday morning from Seattle with 1935 tons freight for Honolulu; 213 tons for Kahului; 324 tons for Port Allen; 316 tons for Hilo and 8 tons for Kaanapali.

Includes the following items: 40 bushels flour, 214 lbs barley, 1,290 lbs dried fish, 1,700 lbs beans, 266 lbs canned goods, 1,400 lbs codfish, 500 lbs ham and bacon, 203 lbs cheese, 25 lbs potatoes, 2,100 lbs salt, 250 lbs dried fruit, 625 lbs keroseen, 299 drums and 400 lbs gasoline, 333 lbs oil and 101 lbs distillate, 420 lbs tobacco, 1,600 lbs seeds, 41 lbs fuse, 100 tons fertilizer.

AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN OFFICER KILLED.

Thomas Johnson, a boatswain in the American-Hawaiian steamship Nevada, and well known to shipping men at the port of Honolulu, is reported to have met with a fatal accident, on October 23d, while attending to his duties on board that vessel during a severe storm. Johnson died three days afterward as a result of his injuries, sustained by being knocked down by a heavy sea. The deceased had visited the islands on a number of occasions as an officer in the American-Hawaiian service. The arrival of the Nevada at San Francisco brought reports of much wreckage scattered along the coast near Point Tosa. A number of floating spars, planks and pieces of rigging were sighted indicating that some sailing vessel had made its last stand against the elements.

ANDREW WELCH HAS EIGHT PASSENGERS.

Captain Edward Kelly, master of the Andrew Welch, will not be a long-time navigator on his voyage from San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands. The well known windjammer is bringing down a large general cargo of merchandise from the Coast and in the small cabin space in that vessel are eight passengers who are apparently content in making a leisurely journey to the islands. The Andrew Welch under the command of Skipper Kelly has achieved much popularity with the fair sex as a pleasing means of transportation.
